Out of Nowhere is a very eye-opening book. I really enjoyed the story from beginning to end. At no point did I find it to be dull or boring. I found myself getting attached to characters, which made parts near the end actually make me a little emotional. Maria Padian does an amazing job of portraying Somali people and their culture in the book.

Called “rich and multidimensional” by School Library Journal in a starred review, Out of Nowhere follows Tom Bouchard: captain and star of the Enniston High School soccer team; boyfriend to one of the prettiest, most popular girls; and third in his class, likely to have his pick of any college (if he ever bothers filling out his applications). But life in his idyllic small Maine town quickly gets turned upside down after the events of 9/11.

“It’s like he came out of nowhere.” So begins Maria Padian’s engaging novel about the impact a young Somali refugee and his family have on high school senior and avid soccer player Tom Bouchard. Saeed, the new player in Tom’s small Maine town, may not yet be fluent in English, but he is a master of the language of soccer.

Book Review - Out of Nowhere by Maria Padian | BookPage

Out of Nowhere. The influx of Somali refugees into a small Maine town proves eye-opening for senior soccer captain Tom Bouchard. Between the language barriers and unfamiliar Muslim traditions and customs, this “secondary migration” has brought tension, uneasiness, and confusion to his high school and community.
